Travelling lightly, in pairs, to heal...

THIS WEEKEND'S GOSPEL passage again continues on directly from that of last week in which we encountered Jesus returning home to Nazareth and being rejected by those that supposedly knew him best. This week we see Jesus reach a turning point in his ministry as he sends out his disciples in pairs to proclaim the Good News by casting out demons and healing the sick.

There are at least three interesting points to note. Firstly, Jesus sends out the disciples in pairs as a way of ensuring both integrity and support in their mission. By virtue of our baptism, we are obligated as disciples of Jesus to follow in the footsteps of those early disciples. Jesus sends us out like them, with the same instructions. Going out "in pairs" for us means to understand that none of us are "lone rangers" on mission but rely on the gifts, cooperation and generosity of others to give our mission the greatest chance of success. The parish is the ideal starting point in this regard.

Secondly, the disciples' mission is focused on healing through the casting out of demons and by anointing the suffering. Casting out demons and anointing the sick might mean for us to recognise the "demons" that possess so many people in our own community: the demons of addiction, depression, consumerism, indifference to suffering and so forth, and to assist those who suffer this way. Perhaps one of the most effective ways we can do this is to ensure that we ourselves are not beset by such "demons" and make that evident in the way we radiate hope and fulfilment to those we encounter, especially those who suffer.

Thirdly, the disciples are instructed by Jesus to travel light, not to be burdened with unnecessary paraphernalia. (As a side note of interest, Jesus is more lenient in Mark's version of this story when he sends out the disciples as opposed to Matthew; in Mark's Gospel the disciples are allowed a staff and a pair of sandals, items Jesus forbids in Matthew!) Travelling light will mean for us not allowing ourselves to be burdened and distracted by the lures of society, ensuring our focus is always on Christ and the mission to which he has entrusted us.

Essentially this means placing all our trust in Jesus and his promise never to abandon us (Matthew 28:20). If we are not travelling light it probably means that we are "having a bet each way", seeking to shore up security for ourselves which means that our focus is not entirely on Christ. If we truly believe his promise to be with us always, then surely we have no need of a "spare tunic"?

It is easy for us to understand the mission of the disciples in the time of Jesus as being special and exclusive to them. They were, after all, with Jesus personally and had the privilege of living and travelling with him. Yet, if we believe that Jesus is with us differently but no less intimately through the gifts of the Holy Spirit and the Eucharist, let us understand that the mission given to the disciples has also been given to us and be conscious of it in all we say and do.

That is, after all, how we find true fulfilment and meaning in our lives.

Wishing you a blessed week ahead,

Fr Robert

A Message During Lockdown

At this time, especially in light of the one-week extension to the original two-week lockdown, I know a lot of parishioners are struggling with not being able to get to Mass and receive the nourishment of both scripture and the Eucharist. Rest assured that I, along with Fr Chris, Fr Chadi, Fr Joseph and the parish team, are remembering you in our prayers at this time. Let us hope and pray that the lockdown will end after its two-week run, though we will not know this until we get closer to that deadline. We must be prepared for an extension if the government deems it necessary.

One perspective which might assist those who are struggling at the moment to what amounts to a eucharistic fast, is to consider one of the reasons we are called to occasionally fast from food. Though there are many reasons for fasting and various benefits that flow from this ancient practice, one thing it does is to give us solidarity and a certain amount of empathy with those who can't access food for one reason or another. Likewise, a eucharistic fast, though forced upon many of us rather than undertaken freely at this time, can give us solidarity and empathy with our brothers and sisters throughout the world who rarely receive the Eucharist, for one reason or another.

Of course, not being able to get to Mass does not mean an enforced spiritual wasteland. You can still view our weekday Masses as well as the Sunday Vigil and 11:00am Masses online on our YouTube channel, the link for which you will find on our website in case you haven't already subscribed (free of charge!) to our channel. You can also, for the moment, watch our Masses on Facebook. If you can't be present to watch our Masses when they are being livestreamed on YouTube, you can still watch them later as they are saved for future viewing.

In addition to this, our Diocesan website, www.parracatholic.org, has resources to feed you spiritually at this time. You can access them by clicking the link which pops up on the homepage when you visit the site. Of course, there is a wealth of other resources floating around in the digital ether if you wish to access them!

Once again, rest assured of our prayers at this time and we do hope and pray that we can worship together soon in our beautiful cathedral.

Yours in Christ,

Frs Robert, Chris, Chadi, Joseph and the Parish Team

Social Justice Group

At the last Parish Pastoral Council meeting, the issue of establishing a Social Justice group was raised. In light of the great treasury of the Church's teaching on social justice and the particular emphasis it has been given by Pope Francis and Bishop Vincent, I think this is an important development in the life of our parish. More information will be forthcoming but if you have any comments on this or would like to express an interest in being a part of such a group, please contact the parish office. Fr Robert

Saint of the Week

14th July - St Camillus of Lellis (1550 - 1614)

St Camillus de Lellis was born at Bocchianico, Italy, on 25 May 1550. He fought for the Venetians against the Turks, was addicted to gambling, and by 1574 was penniless in Naples. He became a Capuchin novice, but was unable to be professed because of a diseased leg he contracted while fighting the Turks. He devoted himself to caring for the sick, and became director of the St Giacomo Hospital in Rome. He received permission from his spiritual director (St Philip Neri) to be ordained and decided, with two companions, to found his own congregation, the Ministers of the Sick (the Camillians), dedicated to the care of the sick. They cared for a wide variety of ill people, including plague victims and those wounded in battle.

Gravely ill for many years, Camillus died in Rome on 14 July 1614. He was canonised in 1746 and is patron saint of the sick (along with St John of God) and of nurses and nursing groups. The Camillians are present in the Diocese of Parramatta, running hospital chaplaincies and residing in a community at Wentworthville.

“Quote of the Week”

“I often think it is my work to find You, and in the tangle of my life I stumble into brambles of doubt and pits of uncertainties and wonder where You are hiding, and then I remember: You seek and I am found.”

NEWS FROM ROME

Pope Francis was in hospital this week for a planned operation. ‘The Holy Father, who was admitted to A. Gemelli Polyclinic in the afternoon, underwent the scheduled surgical operation for diverticular stenosis of the sigma this evening.

The Holy Father reacted well to the operation, conducted under general anaesthesia and performed by Professor Sergio Alfieri, with the assistance of Professor Luigi Sofo, Dr. Antonio Tortorelli and Dr. Roberta Menghi.’

At the time of writing, the Pope was continuing to do well.

Getting to know...

Barbara Hector

I was born in 1936, the second child in a family of eight children. My family name was Carter. I was the first baby to be baptised in the new St Patrick's church.

In 1936, the old church was destroyed by fire. I received Holy Communion and Confirmation at St Patrick's. Educated at St Pat's Primary School and then to high school at OLMC, where I graduated after attaining my Intermediate Certificate. I joined the CYO and later the Patrician Club.

I had a two year working holiday in New Zealand, and then came back and rejoined the Patrician Club, where I met my husband, Norm Hector. We married at St Monica's church and raised two daughters.

Eventually Norm, Anne Marie and Claire, joined Robert Beasley's Choir, so once again we were back in Parramatta.

In 1993 Father John Boyle asked Norm to train as an acolyte. Norm and I had a beautiful granddaughter in 2014. I lost Norm in 2014 and I miss him terribly every day. The deterioration of my eyesight also has been a very great challenge. St Patrick's has always been my spiritual and family home.

BAPTISMS

We welcome into our Catholic Christian family, the Body of Christ, these children who have been baptised over the past few weeks...

Milo Baluyut
Elijah Deeb
Harrison Reid

Please uphold these children and their families in prayer.

WEDDINGS

We pray for those couples who have been married in recent times here at St Patrick's Cathedral...

Jeorgia Lotoaniu & Sione Ahokava
Danielle Takchi & Thomas Sakr

Let us also pray for those who are preparing for marriage:

Katia Rossi & Luke Rinn

DID YOU KNOW...

...that shaking off the dust from one's feet was a common gesture in the time of Jesus?

Jesus orders the Twelve to do this if they are not warmly received by people as they go out on their mission in pairs. For the Jewish people who often had to pass through pagan territories when returning to their own land, this gesture was a common one. It was symbolic of cleansing oneself from that which was not Godly on returning to their own, blessed land.

Jesus sent the apostles out two at a time to teach the people about Him and heal the sick and cast out demons. What did He tell them to take with them?

Add up the numbers. The ones that equal 2 are the things that Jesus told the apostles to take.

Mark 6:7-13

Jesus Sends Us Out to Teach

In this Sunday's Gospel reading, Jesus sends the apostles out to teach and heal people in other towns. The apostles had never taught before, but Jesus was sending them out anyway!

God wants you to teach people about Him too. It doesn't matter if you've never done it before. Sometimes the best way to teach people about God is by being good, like He is, but sometimes you can tell people about Him too.

Jesus wants all Christians to be apostles and tell the world about Him. Some people, like priests and parents and teachers, teach people about Jesus as part of their job. Other people just tell about Jesus by being like Him. What would you like to do when you grow up? How will you be able to teach other people about God?
