'She has put in everything she possessed...'

AS A PRIEST, I have a somewhat privileged life. I don't have to worry about accommodation, where my next meal is coming from, nor do I have any worries about job security. I have no concerns about providing for a family and, connected with that, I don't have to deal with the usual issues that beset most families, including headaches that children inevitably bring, especially in their teenaged years! Having said all that, it was not a vocation I took up in order to take advantage of any perceived privileges. Just as life as it is lived by most people outside a religious vocation has its struggles, so too does priesthood. Anyone who chooses to be a priest or a religious solely for the temporal benefits it may bestow upon them is clearly motivated by a sense of entitlement.

It is this attitude that Jesus condemns in the Gospel this weekend. Jesus is in Jerusalem and we encounter him not too long before his passion and death. He observes the scribes and notes that they are concerned less, if at all, with religious activity directed toward God and God's people than they are with their own sense of importance and the feeding of their egos. In light of the marginalised position in society that many widows in Jesus' time endured, the reference to widows and the scribes' "swallowing of their property" only serves to underscore how irreligious Jesus perceives this group to be.

This attitude contrasts sharply with that of the widow Jesus observes in the encounter that immediately follows. We observe the widow putting two small coins (traditionally referred to as the "widow's mite") into the treasury, "everything she possessed". She is contrasted too with those who put in a lot more money, but who clearly have a lot more wealth from which to give. A good analogy might be as follows: if you have too much food on your plate and so cannot possibly eat it all, there is no great merit in giving what you cannot eat to someone who is hungry. You are simply giving of your excess – you are not diminished in any way. If, on the other hand, you yourself are hungry and have less on your plate than what is needed to satisfy your hunger, there is great merit and virtue in giving of what little you have and need to someone else who, like you, is hungry.

The widow is presented to us as an example of someone who was not only generous but, more importantly, had great faith and trust in God. She clearly believed that despite giving away all her money, God would somehow provide for her. Her focus, unlike that of the scribes, was not on herself but on God. Her little gift was not going to change God but would continue to change her into someone more God-like.

This giving is a great example to us. I speak here not just of giving money but also giving of our time and talents to others for the sake of the building of the kingdom. Giving that involves sacrifice, that hurts a little, as a sign of faith and trust in God, is the sort of giving that not only emulates that of the widow but even more importantly of the one who made the ultimate sacrifice by giving himself totally and unreservedly for us – Jesus.

Wishing you a blessed week ahead,

Fr Robert

SYNOD 2021-2023

In his homily to open the journey of the Synod of Bishops, Pope Francis called to mind the rich young man who desired to follow Jesus. As avid readers of the scriptures we are well aware of this account. The rich young man approaches Jesus, impresses him with his devotion to the law but walks away in sadness following Christ's call to renounce all earthly attachments. To follow Christ requires a process of self-emptying. Yet Pope Francis tackles this particular account from another angle, he focuses on the very first line of the Gospel 'Jesus was setting out on a journey when a man ran up, knelt before him.' Why this particular line? Pope Francis shows that Christ is always journeying, moving from one place to another yet continues to avail himself to all. Along his journey he encounters many (all with ranging issues) whom he never turns away. Jesus encounters, listens and discerns. Take the rich young man; Jesus, being the Incarnate Word, knew exactly what this man needed. Yet he didn't jump to conclusions, he conversed with the young man, seeking to draw him into the heart of the Father. This journeying process is the hallmark of the Synodal process the Pope calls the faithful to. I ask you to continue to pray for this process.

Sacraments of Initiation Information Evening - Reconciliation and First Eucharist

Unfortunately, due to the most recent COVID lockdown, the regular schedule for the sacramental program here at St Patrick's Cathedral had to be postponed but we are pleased to inform everyone that a new calendar has now been formulated and the next program for the Sacraments of Reconciliation and Eucharist for children already baptised will commence in Term 1, 2022. In preparation for this, there will be an INFORMATION EVENING on Tuesday 07 December at 7:30pm in the Cathedral hall for parents who are interested in registering their child/ren for the upcoming program and would like to learn more about the process. Please note that children must be 7 years of age or older to be eligible for the program. For more information regarding the upcoming program for Reconciliation and Eucharist or any other enquires about the Sacraments of Initiation at St Patrick's Cathedral please contact Meg Gale: sacrament@stpatcscathedral.com.au

Confirmation this Sunday @ 11:00am Mass

This Sunday sees the Confirmation of Macnos, one of our parishioners. Macnos was baptised as a Catholic in his native Zimbabwe but was never confirmed in the faith. Let us pray for Macnos, that he will continue to use the gifts of the Spirit given to him to spread the faith of Christ in his words and deeds.

Material for distribution and display

Please note that any material intended for display or distribution on the premises, religious or otherwise, must first have the approval of the Dean. Unauthorised material will go straight to recycling, regardless of quantity! Thank you.

Euthanasia Legislation

You may have heard that a vote on the euthanasia bill has been postponed till 2022 whilst the legislation goes before a committee. Nonetheless, please contact our State member, Dr Geoff Lee, at parramatta@parliament.nsw.gov.au or phone on 9891 4722 to make your opposition to this bill heard.

Calling for Livestream Volunteers

The Cathedral is seeking volunteers who are IT and social media savvy to assist, at least once a month, in livestreaming the 11:00am Solemn Mass on Sundays. Volunteers will undergo training for a few weeks before being rostered. If this sounds like something you could assist the Cathedral team with, please call the Cathedral Office on 8839 8411.

Gathering before and after 11:00am Mass

The 11:00am Solemn Mass will continue to be livestreamed on Facebook and Youtube, even after Covid restrictions are lifted. Parishioners are respectfully asked to avoid gathering at the conclusion of Mass in the area near the bottom of the aisle between the organ and the choir platform and refrain from engaging in conversation or chat, as this is picked up by the livestream microphones. Thank you!

Return of the St Patrick's Cathedral Choir

Due to a number of continuing Covid restrictions surrounding singing and spacing issues, St Patrick's Cathedral Choir will remain in recess until these are lifted, which is currently scheduled by the NSW Government for 01 December. At that stage (or if restrictions are lifted earlier), the choir will be re-constituted and return to singing at the 11:00am Mass on the Sunday following. For the next couple of weeks, singing at the 11:00am Mass will continue to be led by a cantor.

Thank you from Fr Kevin Walsh

I'm deeply grateful for the prayers of St Patrick's community during my open heart surgery. The Lord has given me more time and a greater quality of life. Sincerely in Christ's love. Fr Kevin Walsh.

HSC Exams

Let us bring to our thoughts and prayers this week all those students who will be undertaking the HSC exams which begin on 09 November and conclude early December. We pray that despite the difficult circumstances under which students have laboured, they will perform to the best of their abilities and continue to find the support and encouragement needed from family and loved ones.

Annual General Meeting

The Annual General Meeting (AGM) for the parish is scheduled to take place next Sunday 14 November after the 11:00am Mass. The Annual General Report is now available both on the parish website and hard copy. Please note that you need to register to attend the AGM. Sign-on sheets are available near the doors.

Deacon Rod Pirotta - Farewell!

Our farewell for Deacon Rod will take place on Sunday 14 November following the Annual General Meeting which is itself to follow the 11:00am Solemn Mass. A sad loss for us!

Parish Picnic

The parish team felt that it would be nice for us to gather as a community for a simple social event sometime soon. To that end, we are asking parishioners to bring a picnic lunch so that we can gather in the cloister after the 11:00am Mass on the Feast of Christ the King, 21 November. Of course, you don't have to be at that Mass to come to the lunch!

St Pat's Matters

The aim is to publish issue 109 in December, with many articles already submitted.

Some suggestions to encourage you to write:

- ♦ Share how cultural traditions influence the celebration of Christmas in your household.
- ♦ Are you involved in Ministry at the Cathedral? Share how and why you chose to serve. We'd love to receive articles from our young altar servers!
- ♦ What draws you to belong to St Pat's Parish?
- ♦ Have you witnessed, or personally experienced, a "Good Sam" act, particularly during the long lockdown? Share it with the community.
- ♦ Articles and archival photos relating to the long-standing history of our remarkable parish — its priests, people and events — are always welcome.

Email your submissions to either Fr Robert or M. Polizzi at balmap5@bigpond.com

Update from Cloister Café

Reopening for morning teas after 9:30am and 11:00am Mass on Sundays is looking promising! At this stage, that could be either 28 November or 05 December, continuing for the Sundays following till just before Christmas. Then, as in the past, the Café closes until February. We will keep you posted. Checking with Hospitality team members as to whether or not they are happy to return to serving parishioners and welcoming them to enjoy a cuppa and a chat.

NEW STOCK: Feel free to come in and have a browse!

We stock religious goods, ethical products, sacramental gifts and many more items to celebrate a time in your life or someone special.

OPEN: Tuesday - Friday 10:00am - 3:00pm & Sunday 9:00am - 1:00pm

Saint of the Week

11th November - St Martin of Tours (c.316-397)

Martin was born in the Roman province of Pannonia (approximating to the western half of modern Hungary) in about 316 and was educated at Pavia in Italy. He was baptised, left the army and after spending some time as a hermit on an island off the Ligurian coast, founded a monastery at Ligugé in western France, where he lived a monastic life guided by St Hilary. Later he was ordained priest and became bishop of Tours. In his actions he gave an example of what a good shepherd should be. He found other monasteries, educated the clergy, and preached the Gospel to the poor. He died in 397.

The famous story about St Martin is that while a soldier in Amiens, he gave half of his military cloak to a beggar and later had a dream in which the beggar revealed himself as Christ.

"Quote of the Week"

"Do not anticipate what will happen tomorrow. The same everlasting Father who cares for you today will take care of you tomorrow and every day. Either he will shield you from suffering or he will give you unfailing strength to bear it. Be at peace, then, and put aside all anxious thoughts and imaginations."

NEWS FROM ROME

Beginning of the message of Pope Francis to the COP26 Conference in Glasgow: 'As the Glasgow Conference begins, all of us are aware that it has the vital task of demonstrating to the entire international community whether there really exists a political will to devote – with honesty, responsibility and courage – greater human, financial and technological resources to mitigating the negative effects of climate change and assisting the poorer and more vulnerable nations most affected by it.

'At the same time, we realize that this task has to be undertaken in the midst of a pandemic that for almost two years has devastated our human family. Covid-19 has brought immense tragedies in its wake, but it has also taught us that, if we are to succeed in overcoming the pandemic, there is no alternative: all of us must play a part in responding to this challenge. And that, as we know, calls for profound solidarity and fraternal cooperation between the world's peoples.'

Living Laudato Si'

As you are aware, Pope Francis has issued several encyclicals since the beginning of his pontificate and all of them have created a buzz of some sort. His 2015 encyclical letter "Laudato Si'" with the subtitle "On Care for Our Common Home" is focused, as the subtitle suggests, on our relationship with creation. With this encyclical, Pope Francis made it clear that he considers this relationship to be of prime importance and, indeed, it has become somewhat of a feature of his pontificate. The Australian Bishops' Social Justice Statement for 2021-2022, "Cry of the Earth, Cry of the Poor" uses Laudato Si' as the basis for its ideas, putting Pope Francis' concerns into an Australian context.

Over the next few weeks, this space will be devoted to looking at how we can put the concerns of Pope Francis and the Australian bishops into action in our day-to-day living. Encyclicals and social justice statements are all good and well but they remain fruitless unless we put their ideas into action. Five areas of daily living will be covered: appreciating the natural environment, food, transport, waste and children.

Let us see what we can do as a people of faith to action Laudato Si' and help make the world one which shows we are good stewards of God's creation, especially as the world leaders conclude their gathering in Glasgow with the aim of taking bold action to mitigate climate change.

DID YOU KNOW...

...that the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was the idea of a British World War One chaplain?

This Thursday is Remembrance Day and we pause to remember those who gave their lives in war. The Reverend David Railton was an Anglican clergyman and a chaplain on the western front during World War One. He had the idea of having an unidentified British soldier buried amongst royalty and other dignitaries in Westminster Abbey to represent the hundreds and thousands who had died on the battlefields. The Unknown Australian Soldier lies at the Australian War Memorial in Canberra and was interred there on 11 November 1993.

Mark 12:38-44

In today's Gospel reading Jesus saw a poor woman putting everything she had into the Temple treasury. How much was it? Connect the dots to find out!

giving to god

In today's first reading we hear about a widow who was asked to give away all the food she had. In the Gospel Jesus points out a woman who put all her money into the Temple treasury.

It pleases God when He sees us sharing what we have with the poor and the Church. But do you think He wants us to give everything away?

Everything we have comes from God and He wants us to use it well. That's called being a good steward. It means using what we need for ourselves, but making sure that we always give to the Church and those in need.

What would a bad steward do?

How can you be a good steward with your money?
