Why God Wants Us To Ask

CHRIST INSTRUCTS us to ask God earnestly for all our needs and to persevere in our petitions: "Ask, and it will be given to you; search, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened to you."

I have always wondered why God waits for us to ask. Is he reluctant to give us good things, as he sits in Heaven waiting for us to change his mind? It can be tempting to see God in this way, but that explanation can't be right. God makes it clear that he is a Father who loves his children and he desires to shower all sorts of blessings upon us.

So, the question remains: if he is willing to bless us, and he already knows our needs, why doesn't he just give us these blessings whether we ask for them or not?

One answer is that God does indeed give us many gifts that we have not asked for: life, food, clothing, family, friends. Our hearts beat whether we petition God for it or not. So, God does indeed provide for many of our needs before we even ask for them.

Another answer suggests that our prayers do not change God's mind; rather, they change us. When we ask God for things, we are recognising that he is our Father who is the source of everything good in the world. By acknowledging his providence and goodness, we become more faithful children, dependent on our heavenly Father. Prayer changes us, not him.

One other explanation is that God will not impose on our freedom. There are some who might be confronted by an all-powerful God intervening in their lives at moments in which they did not ask for it. To some degree, this means that he chooses not to impose himself when we do not invite him into our lives. Asking for our needs, then, is a way of saying that we invite God openly into lives.

I have found another very satisfying answer from a Catholic philosopher named Eleonor Stump. She points out that parents who give their children everything on a platter end up spoiling them. The children begin to take all these gifts for granted, and they often mistreat what is given to them. So God waits until we ask for his blessings so that we may be truly open and receptive to his graces. He is more than willing to provide for us, but by waiting for us to request his blessings, he ensures that we truly desire them.

So, dear friends, let us be obedient to Christ's instruction. Let us ask the Father for all our needs, sincerely desiring his graces, inviting him willingly into our lives, and responding generously to the gifts he has given us. In other words, let us turn to the Father as his trusting children, trusting entirely in his providence and care.

Wising you a blessed week ahead,

Deacon Matthew

Saints of the Week

29th July - Saints Martha, Mary and Lazarus

Martha was the sister of Mary of Bethany and Lazarus. In the West, her feast day comes a week after that of St Mary Magdalene because of the old and probably erroneous tradition that Mary Magdalene was the same person as Martha's sister.

Modern scholarship having made matters clearer, Martha, Mary and Lazarus have since 2021 been celebrated together on this day, which was formerly assigned to Martha alone.

(Information taken from Universalis)

"Quote of the Week"

"The Eucharist is not a cheerful gathering of nice people who sing songs and feel good. It is an outrageous expression of hope in defiance of everything that could destroy it."

Fr Timothy Radcliffe OP
(b.1945)
English Dominican Friar
Quoted in The Tablet

Pope Francis' Words...

From a speech to young people gathered at the European Union Youth Conference in Prague

"Don't let yourselves be seduced by the sirens that propose a life of luxury reserved for a small slice of the world. Instead, have that "broad outlook" that can take in all the rest of humanity, which is much bigger than our little continent. May you aspire to a life of dignity and sobriety, without luxury and waste, so that everyone in our world can enjoy a dignified existence."

Getting to know...

The PACE family

Hello to all of our fellow St Pat's parishioners. My name is Hope, my husband is Michael and we have three children Chanel (9), Isaac (7) and Isabella (1). Throughout my childhood, I attended many different Catholic parishes. This was because we moved houses quite a lot although my mother thought it was important for us to attend church on a Sunday morning, no matter where we were at the time. I was uninformed as to why, I never questioned it but I did as my mum said. I attended a local public primary school and enjoyed learning new things in scripture, the place I could ask all my questions. I was baptised as a baby but never completed the other sacraments. This affected me as a child, I was embarrassed especially when my mother and all the other children could go up and receive the body of Christ whilst I had to sit down with my younger sister and pray. Unfortunately, throughout my teenage years, I became very disconnected from my faith. It wasn't until I turned sixteen that I made the decision to start attending Mass again, although this time, it was on my own. I strongly believe that spiritual maturity doesn't happen overnight. When I met Michael, there was religious cohesion and we were able to bond by attending church together. This was important to the both of us.

With the support of Michael, I knew I wanted to continue my journey of faith, dive deeper and actually understand/learn. So, I contacted Deacon Rod about joining the RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults). I committed to attending RCIA meetings and by doing so I met so many amazing people and learnt so much about my faith.

Michael and I were married at St Pat's. All three of our children were baptised at St Pat's and Chanel completed her First Holy Communion at St Pat's last year.

How can we expect our children to live their faith if we aren't leading them?

If you see us at Mass, please come and say hello. We love meeting new people. God bless!

BAPTISMS

We welcome into our Catholic Christian family, the Body of Christ, these children who have been recently baptised...

DID YOU KNOW...

...that the Lord's Prayer Jesus teaches his disciples in today's Gospel is the lesser-known of two versions in the Gospels?

The version which almost every Christian knows by heart is the version found in Matthew's Gospel (6:9-13), from Jesus' Sermon on the Mount. This is slightly longer than Luke's version, with the noted addition of the phrase about God's will being done on earth and in heaven. Incidentally, the additional lines added by many of our Protestant brothers and sisters ("For the kingdom, the power...") is not to be found in the scriptures but is taken from a first-century document known as "The Didache".
