Jesus' Body and Blood: Literal or Symbol?

THE CHURCH IN THE US recently concluded its National Eucharistic Revival, a project aimed at renewing faith and devotion to the Holy Eucharist. On the final day, a series of popular Catholic figures gave talks, one of them being Jonathan Roumie who is well known for his portrayal of Jesus in "The Chosen" TV series.

Roumie spoke passionately about his personal experience playing Jesus, and especially about the profound experience he had in acting out the Last Supper. He hinted at regret, however, that one of the most pivotal scenes in the gospels for him as a Catholic wouldn't be featured in the series, that is, the Bread of Life discourse that we have been going through over the last few weeks. He then read from it with great zeal in his now familiar style. All the while, Jonathan was wearing a t-shirt which had printed on its front a quote from the Catholic writer Flannery O'Connor, "If it is a symbol, to hell with it."

In the States, the Protestant-Catholic divide is more pronounced than it is here in Australia, and I think this can explain the zeal in her words and why Roumie would have borrowed them as he witnessed to his Catholic faith before all of America. And while I agree largely with the sentiment of O'Connor's words - that if all we are doing when we receive Communion is some vague spiritual remembrance of Jesus - if I was her editor I would have suggested saying, "If it is just a symbol, to hell with it." Because, while it is true and fundamental to our faith that we really and truly eat Jesus' Flesh and drink his Blood in the Eucharist, we also do it in a symbolic, sacramental way. It is, as the theologians would say, a real-symbol. The symbol is the reality it symbolises.

This is important to emphasise because what is being offered in the Eucharist are spiritual goods. By sharing his Body and Blood with us, Jesus is giving us salvation, spiritual healing, wisdom, understanding, growth in virtue, faith, hope, charity etc. All these things are spiritual realities, things above and beyond the merely physical.

All this to say it is important not to be too cut and dry about these things, not to think too much in terms of either this or that. We Catholics think more in terms of both-and. The Eucharist is neither just symbolic, nor just literal, but it is both. We literally partake of Jesus' Body and Blood, present to us sacramentally (that is, symbolically), and the whole point of it is so that we can feast on heavenly things.

Wishing you a blessed week ahead,

Fr Tom

Invitation to Join the RCIA Program

Do you know someone who is seeking a deeper relationship with God or a sense of belonging within the Catholic Church?

Perhaps you, or someone close to you, feel a call to explore the Catholic faith more fully. Our Cathedral parish will soon be recommencing the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) program.

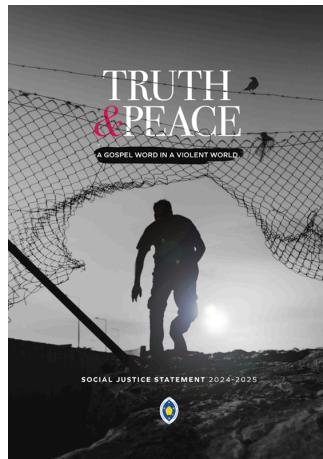

The RCIA is a spiritual journey designed for adults who are considering becoming Catholic, particularly those who have not yet been baptised. It is a time of reflection, prayer, and learning, where individuals are invited to explore the richness of our Catholic faith and discern whether God is calling them to enter into full communion with the Church.

This is not just a process, but a transformative journey that leads to a deeper relationship with Christ and His Church. We encourage you to reach out to family members, friends, neighbors, or anyone who may be searching for a spiritual home. Your invitation could be the first step in their journey toward discovering the fullness of faith in the Catholic Church.

For more information or to express interest, please contact Fr Robert on frrobert@stpatscathedral.com.au or call the Cathedral office on 8839 8400. Let's work together to extend Christ's invitation to those seeking Him, and help them embark on this beautiful path of faith.

Social Justice Sunday - 25 August

Each year the Australian Catholic Bishops Conference publishes a Social Justice Statement. This tradition goes back many decades, to 1940, in fact, and the range of topics covered by these statements is wide and varied. From issues concerning First Nations Peoples, to the eradication of poverty, to the concerns of the elderly and through to immigration and the plight of prisoners, the Social Justice Statements leave no stone unturned in pursuing the call of Jesus and the Church to build the kingdom of God here and now. This year, Social Justice Sunday falls on 25 August.

The title of this year's statement is Truth and Peace: A Gospel World in a Violent World. It will be available online shortly at the Australian Catholic Bishops Conference website and elsewhere online. For a preview, go to <https://socialjustice.catholic.org.au/2024/06/26/truth-and-peace/>

Notice from the Cloister Cafe

Regrettably, due to unforeseen circumstances, there will be no morning tea after 9:30am Mass this Sunday.

The good news: morning tea after 11:00am Mass will still be available!

Weekly Update on our ParishStaq App

We are excited to announce two new features on our ParishStaq App that will enhance your spiritual journey and deepen your connection with our faith community.

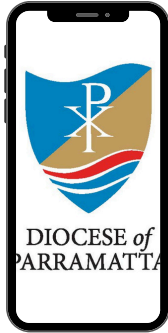

Liturgy of the Hours

The Liturgy of the Hours, also known as the Divine Office, is the official set of daily prayers prescribed by the Church, designed to sanctify the day and all its activities. This new feature on our app allows you to easily access these prayers at any time, helping you to integrate prayer into your daily routine.

Whether you are looking to participate in diocesan events or seeking resources for your spiritual life, this connection will enrich your involvement in our diocesan community.

We encourage all parishioners to explore these new features and make the most of the spiritual tools available on our ParishStaq App.

Thanks to Sidney and Fatima Rodricks supplies for Sunday morning teas have been hugely augmented by their generous donation of 3 tins of coffee, several bottles of cordial and 5 packets of serviettes!

On a regular basis Sidney approaches me, asking what items need replenishing.

How blessed is St Pat's in such parishioners!

Save the date!

PARISH NOTICES

Gearing up for our Second Monthly Barbecue and Bazaar

Apart from slices and small cakes, we will have a range of plants (succulents), jigsaw puzzles (as new condition) and books for bargain basement prices.

If you have a fruit tree laden with a crop you can't give away, bring them and we will sell them. Hate to see good food going to waste. Andy and Carmen's grapefruit were a real hit.

The barbecue will be cranked up with sausage and bacon and egg sandwiches tempting the nostrils.

If you would like to donate items for us to sell or would like to volunteer on the day, please call the office. Although we usually are never short of helpers just turning up, it helps us allocate jobs.

Our next barbecue event will be held on Sunday 25 August.

Our callout for volunteers also brought in a few new faces to the parish, providing a wonderful opportunity to get to know them and build relationships. If you would like to put your name down to help out for the next barbecue, please call Donna or Pat from the office.

To those who volunteered to help out with events, we are putting together a group for this. We will contact you in the next week to check out messages and the group on our Cathedral App.

POPE FRANCIS' Prayer Intention for August

For political leaders

"We pray that political leaders be at the service of their own people, working for integral human development and for the common good, especially caring for the poor and those who have lost their jobs."

From Pope Francis...

From a tweet dated 12 August

"Dear young people, please reflect on the wonder of God's love for us just the way we are, not the way society or we say we should be, but as we are with all our faults and our limitations. Trust in God because He is our Father who loves us."

Saint of the Week

23 August - St Rose of Lima (1586-1617), Virgin

Rose was born in Lima, in Peru. She lived a life of selflessness and devotion from an early age. She refused to marry, and became a Dominican tertiary at the age of 20. Her asceticism and her intense spiritual experiences excited the criticism of her friends and family and the suspicion of the Church authorities.

She cared for the sick, the poor, Indians, and slaves.

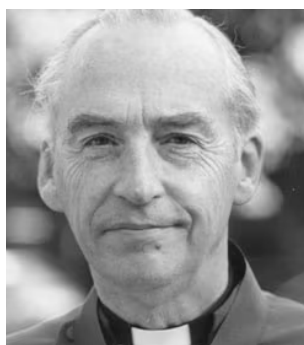

She was the first person in the Americas to be canonised, and is a patron saint of South America.

Information: Universalis

“Quote of the Week”

“For God is not an escape from life, not 10 or 15 or 20 minutes cut out of my life, nor a relationship to be forged afresh every time, but a regular, disciplined reminder that all life is lived in the presence of God. It’s like a marriage relationship, not a flirtation carried out in a series of clandestine meetings. Prayer is marvelling at God’s love as that is shown in Christ, and receiving and responding to that transcendent reality by whom we have been grasped, and whom we sense at our very centre.”

Michael Mayne
(1929-2006)
Anglican Priest
Prayer (2011)

Did You Know...?

...that the belief in “transubstantiation”, the changing of the bread and wine at Mass into the Body and Blood of Jesus, has always been a belief held by the Catholic Church?

Many other Christian traditions don’t hold the same belief which is why there are quite strict rules about who is able to receive Communion in a Catholic church and what Catholics can partake of in other Christian churches. Our Catholic belief is that after consecration within a celebration of Mass, the bread and wine, though appearing as simply bread and wine, are in fact the Body and Blood of Christ, his flesh given to us to eat.
